Stage 6 - Build an honest, evidence-supported story of your progress.

The challenge

What were you trying to understand or improve?

Evidence about the learner

What did you actually hear, see, or observe?

The breakdown

Where did learning start to get difficult?

The strategy

What kind of learning action did you create?

What you made

What did the learner actually do?

What testing changed

What evidence changed the design or your thinking?

Evidence-sized claim

What can you say now - no more than your evidence supports?

Still uncertain / next

What do you not know yet, and what would you do next?

Stage 6 - Make one part of the story visible and rehearse it.

Something useful to show

Learning clue / prototype / test evidence / tool in action. What should the audience notice?

1-2 minute version

What is the shortest clear version of your story?

Speaking roles

Who says or shows what?

Access / backup

Captions, text alternative, verbal explanation, paper backup, screenshots, non-internet backup.

AI role, if relevant

What did AI help with? What did your team check? What still required your judgment?
